SUFFRAGETTES CHAINED.

The proceeding in the British house of commons during the consideration of the licensing bill were diversified startlingly last night by a suffragette speaking from the women's gallery. She demanded that the women of England be allowed to vote and thrust through the grille a placid, on which the demands of the suffragettes were emblazoned.

Mr. Remnant, who was speaking on the licensing bill, attempted to continue his oratory, but the cries continued from the gallery. The members were confounded further by a man throwing down a bundle of papers, at the same time crying:

"I am a man and I protest against injustice to women."

The ejection of the male disturber was followed by sounds of a desperate struggle in the women's gallery, where it was discovered that two suffragettes had chained themselves to the grille. They continued to cry, "We demand votes for women."

Eventually the attendants who were unable to release the women from their self-fastened chains, were obliged to remove a part of the grill before they could eject the suffragettes, who were Muriel Manners and Helen Fox.

Both of the offenders were laughing heartily when they were escorted by a posse of policemen, one of the officers carrying that part of the grille to which the women were chained. They were conducted into a committee room, and workmen were summoned to file off the iron from the chains, which were securely padlocked around the women's waists.

Ten minutes later there was another dramatic scene, a man in the strangers' gallery flinging another bundle of bills down upon the house and shouting:

"Why don't you give women votes and relieve the unemployed?" After a desperate struggle, the attendants succeeded in ejecting the man.

About the same time a large body of suffragettes made a demonstration outside the parliament building and fifteen of them were arrested.

The speaker has decided that the strangers' gallery and the women's gallery shall be closed until further orders.

VICTIM OF DELIRIUM TREMENS.

Charles Roman gives a record of his own experience as a victim of delirium tremens. Following is a brief extract from the American Magazine which gives some suggestion of the things the patient saw:

"Up to this point the zoological visitations had been intermittent. During the next few days, however, I saw all that I could stand. I saw such prehistoric creatures as exist nowhere except in museums. I saw rats as they marched past my door, or flew through my windows, or floated in my tub. Elephants strode in and out with lumbering steps and swaying trunks. At times they seated themselves and taunted me with their ear-splitting screechings. They flaunted their shouts high in the air and guffawed. Monkeys jumped from limb to limb in the trees outside my rooms.

"Snakes of all colors, of all descriptions, reptiles with fantastic figures upon their backs, and with eyes of sapphire or ruby or of milk-white marble, wriggled upon the floor or crept in or out of heretofore unseen crevices in the walls, and dropped into the water in my tub. They swam around and around me, squirming under me, with their tongues darting in and out with ferocious activity. Lions I heard roaring, and tigers I saw while they opened their mouths like huge cats, in silent angry disapproval, licking their whiskers and wetting their paws, softly and daintily. This and far more.

"I saw crocodiles in droves. Fat, scaly glistening beasts they were, with frothy, foaming jaws, long sweeping tails, crouching upon or creeping along the foot of my bathtub or on my bed, and grinding their yellow teeth in gluttonous anger as they contemplated me, their prey. I saw the reeking, slippery body of a crocodile slide into the water of my tub. Then as I shrank in breathless horror to escape, I saw his greedy, filmy eyes arise to the surface, with his cold, foul [illegible] with mine. His icy [illegible] touched my cheek, the hot vapor from his lungs seared my flesh. I turned as cold as ice and trembled like a leaf in a storm."

For Chronic Diarrhoea.

"While in the army in 1863 I was taken with chronic diarrhoea," says George M. Felton of South Gibson, Pa. "I have since tried many remedies but without any permanent relief, until Mr. A. W. Miles, of this place, persuaded me to try Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, one bottle of which stopped it at once." For sale by W. F. Creighton & Company and Richard Gibson.

Why

Is it that there is an occasional howl about the poor quality of goods sold by firms? The reason is that such business houses have no future and want to "get theirs," no matter what the purchasers receive.

Our Motto

Is to recommend to you something we can guarantee and sell to you, whether you live in the city or country, exactly what we SHOW YOU.

Some One

Has said that we were not particular about the trade of Alexandria city, and we want the people here to know that such statement is absolutely false.

A Business Man

Would be an idiot to come to a city, invest money in heavy expenses, including taxes and other things, and then even intimate such a statement as this.

We Desire Your Trade

In Liquors and to that end we intend to publish every week our lines of goods and invite you to call and look them over.

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER.

THURSDAY EVENING, OCT. 29, 1908

WE ARE having another invasion of Virginia, not by northern men, nor men who from their mother's breast were nurtured with the milk of pure republicanism, but men who have at one time "worn the grey" now invade the state and have the effrontery to call themselves "southern Taft democrats"—the bread and butter brigade. The two most prominent of these are Gen. Luke E. Wright, now secretary of war, from Tennessee, and Mr. John G. Capers, of South Carolina, a son of the late Episcopal bishop of that state. Secretary Wright invaded this state yesterday, with the cry just as familiar as it was in 1861-65—"On to Richmond!" where last night he addressed the "Taft Democratic Club." Mr. Capers is speaking in Maryland. They are for Taft, of course. Why not? "The ox knoweth his owner and the ass his master's crib," besides the president has ordered all hands on deck, assigned them their various places, and, having heard "their master's voice," there is a grand hustle all around. Some one has published a book on the Hessians of the American Revolution. A fortune could be made by Mr. Roosevelt himself, or an addition to his already large one, if he would prepare a second edition, and give a chapter in it to the especial consideration of the acts of the southern Hessians who have strived so long and so earnestly to get near the pie counter and stay there. Every man of this class, should Mr. Bryan be elected, would at once discover him to be a great man as well as a sincere patriot, and no parasite who ever tried to deceive the rich by flattery, would be more complaisant than they. "And Brutus is an honorable man," and so are they all honorable men, but this crowd of discontents beats them all. Some southern men and some southern newspapers have acted so strangely for some years past that it would be foolish to indulge in prophecy as to what they will do, but the unpurchased people of the south will remember this class for their party perfidy, and sooner or later there will come a day of reckoning.

THE readers of papers sometimes are carried away with what is indicated by straw votes. On last Sunday the New York Herald gave a forecast of the probable election of Tuesday next, which gives Taft a certain vote of 280 with a large number doubtful; 242 being enough to elect. The Herald gives a number of instances, and quotes its figures where it was a good guesser, but refers to the vote in New York in 1904 in these words only, "In 1904 Roosevelt's victory was forecast by the Herald." Note that! If one will turn to the Gazette of Wednesday, November 2, 1904, he will see in its editorial column this: "The Brooklyn Eagle after a careful canvass of the indications of the voting in Greater New York next Tuesday, finds that the Parker plurality will be 182,022. The New York Herald canvass puts the Parker plurality in Greater New York at 133,000 and gives Roosevelt 145,150 in the balance of the state. The two journals are so wide apart in the results of their painstaking preliminary arithmetic as to suggest a complete unreliability of prognostication." According to the Herald then Roosevelt's majority would have been only 12,150 in New York state whereas it was in excess of 250,000. Instead of Judge Parker having 133,000 majority in Greater New York, he had only about 30,000 This may be the reason for the Herald not exploiting its bad guess of 1904. Straws can be picked up by a good breeze, but they can not always be relied upon to "show which way the wind blows."

IN RICHMOND last night Gen. Luke Wright, secretary of war, former democrat and ex-Confederate soldier, appealed to Virginia and the south to forsake its traditional political moorings and thereby become a part of the whole country. He was introduced to his audience by John Skelton Williams, former president of the Seaboard Air Line Railway, and who announced that he will cast his vote for the republican national ticket next Tuesday. But this is of no consequence whatever. Touching upon the south's political attitude to the country at large, Gen. Wright declared that despite its electoral vote the section below the Mason and Dixon line had no place upon the national ticket because "such men as Bryan calmly deny her this privilege." He asserted that if the south will vote its sentiments and refuse to hold together because of tradition, the north will then not feel constrained to remain the "solid north" to offset the "solid south." Then, he said, all sectional walls will be swept away and the south will become a part of the country at large in spirit, and its voice will again be heard in the nation's counsels as of yore. With such a bait Gen. Wright endeavored to catch the votes of Virginia democrats but he will find out his mistake on next Tuesday, if not in Richmond, then in the other parts of the state. Gen. Wright, at the conclusion of his speech, was entertained at a reception by the members of R. E. Lee Camp, Confederate Veterans. This was all in Richmond!

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, Oct. 29.

After a ten mile walk through the rain and mud, and a good night's rest, President Roosevelt appeared at his office a little earlier than usual today, to go over some confidential reports on the political situation in a number of the doubtful states. He expressed himself to a few of his intimate friends as fully satisfied with the political situation. He believes that "it is all over but the shouting." The semi-weekly Cabinet meeting to have been held tomorrow, the last until after election, has been abandoned on account of absence of several members from this city, and the illness of Secretary Metcalf. Although the president has decided that he can see nothing in the situation that would demand a stump speech from him, it may be that as an eleventh hour expedient he may see fit to take the voters of the country into his confidence in the form of a personal appeal through the press. Secretary Root and Postmaster General Myer who have been speaking in Ohio, will be a position to present the situation in that state at first hand. It is understood that these two members of the president's official family have been directed to confer while in Ohio with Secretary of the Interior Garfield who has been stumping that state for the past week. Secretary Straus, who has been stumping in New York city, after a campaign through Indiana, is expected to be present at the meeting. Secretary Cortelyou, who left last night for New York where he is to speak tonight, expects to go over with party leaders the situation in that state, so that he can, on his return, lay before the president and the cabinet later facts than may have been already received in the confidential reports. Although the White House considers the prospects of a republican victory brighter than a week ago, when it claimed New York, Indiana, Ohio by safe pluralities, it is understood that the president is ready for any emergency and that he will promptly meet in the last few days of the campaign any adverse condition that may unexpectedly arrive. Postmaster General Meyer raced into the city today from Ohio, conferred with the president and hurried away to Maryland. He will speak at Baltimore tonight.

Assistant Secretary of the Navy Newberry today ordered the court martial of Charles J. Magnes, deserter from the navy, who recently married Miss Ada Gorman, daughter of the late Senator from Maryland. The papers were forwarded to League Island navy yard, where Magnes' trial will take place without delay.

Virginia News.

Rev. Dallas Tucker, of Bedford City, has accepted a call to Emmanuel Episcopal Church at Harrisonburg.

Winston Green, colored, of Chesterfield county, will be electrocuted in the penitentiary Friday, his crime having been an assault upon a little white girl a few weeks ago.

The committee appointed by the Virginia legislature to select a site for a state sanitarium for the treatment of tuberculosis has decided to recommend Roanoke Red Sulphur Springs.

Miss Evelyn Byrd Lee, daughter of Rev. William B Lee, of Gloucester Courthouse, and Mr. Henry Hutchinson, of Baltimore will be married at Gloucester this evening.

Information received at the shipyard at Newport News is to the effect that the yard will be awarded the $10,000,000 contract for the construction of the sister ship to the Deleware, now in process of construction there.

Congressman Carter Glass, of the Sixth Virginia district, created a sensation in Norfolk Tuesday night by declaring at the big democratic rally that United States Senator Joseph W. Bailey should be lashed out of the Senate, along with Senator Foraker.

William H. Cochran, aged 73 years, died on Tuesday at his home, near Leesburg. He was a member of the Eighth Virginia regiment. A month ago Mr. Cochran fell in his field and lay unconscious for two days before discovered. He never recovered from the exposure.

The anti-saloon league of Lynchburg despite a petition from the business interests of the city to defer action in petitioning for a local-option election before the close of the year, will at once ask for an election to take place in December at the earliest date it can be fixed under the law.

Miss Lula Ellen Haislip and Eugene Clarence Powell, both of Fredericksburg, were married in Rockville, Md., yesterday evening, by the Rev. S. R. White, of the Baptist Church. The same minister officiated at the marriage of Miss Lottie May McGaire and Wilbert Bart Henry, both of Fairfax county.

Last night in the Presbyterian Church of Pulaski the wedding of Miss Margaret Howe Watson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Peirce Watson, of Pulaski,, to Mr. Channing Moore Newton, son of the late Bishop and Mrs. John B. Newton, of that city, was celebrated, Rev. Carl S. Mathews, officiating.

The War Department has announced allotments to all states and territories, on account of militia organizations, of the $2,000'000 appropriated by the act of May 27, 1908 The allotements are based on the enlisted strength reported by officers of the regular army at the last annual inspection. The allotment of Virginia $35,209

Messrs. Davis & Davis, Washington patent attorneys, report the grant, this week, to citizens of this state, of the following patents: H. D. Bonnell, of Norfolk, sampler for granular material; J. A. Milhado, of Mineral, vegetable peeler or scraper; F. L. Watson, of Lynchburg, steam-trap for radiators.

The Field kidnapping case, which caused a sensation at Staunton recently, was settled in the Corporation Court yesterday, Mrs. Field being awarded the custody of her son, Frederick Seymour Field. On October 13 Mrs. May E. Field, of Los Angeles attempted to leave Staunton for California with Mrs. Field's 13-year-old son, who had been brought to Staunton and placed at the Staunton Military Academy by his father, B F. Field. She were prevented and the legal proceedings followed.

Mr. Welby Sowers, formerly of Clarke county, was killed last Saturday in Montana, where he had been living on a ranch for the past five years. Mr. Sowers, who was about 23 years of age, was riding a horse and was thrown off.

The Patriotic Order, Sons of America, now in session in Richmond, yesterday elected officers with Miss Cynthia D. Hart, of New York, president. Chicago was chosen as the next place of meeting. The chief business conducted was the indorsement of the project to have the birthplace of the Lees, 'Stratford," in Westmoreland county, pass into the hands of the Patriotic Order Sons of America.

News of the Day.

President Roosevelt, writing to the editor of the New York Herald, predicts the election of Hughes and Taft.

William Montgomery, former cashier of the Allegheny National Bank, of Pittsburg, was yesterday found guilty of embezzling and abstracting $613,000 of the bank's funds.

Oscar Kendert, formerly cashier of the First National Bank, of Baton Rouge, La., charged with the embezzlement of about $50,000 of the bank's fund, was yesterday sentenced to five years in prison.

This statement was issued by W. J. Conners, chairman of the Democratic State committee, from the Hotel Knickerbocker in New York yesterday: "I am as firmly confident that Bryan and Chanler will carry the State of New York as I am that election day will come next Tuesday."

Henry Watterson on "the outlook" will say, in part, in the Louisville Courier-Journal today: "The Courier-Journal can see nothing in the outlook but the election of Bryan and the defeat of Taft. Its basic faith rests upon its undiminished belief in the virtue and intelligence of the people and the destiny of the republic."

Confessing that they had been selling cocaine to the pupils of the Daniel Webster public school in Philadelphia, two boys arrested in the Tenderloin Tuesday night startled even the police when arraigned yesterday before Magistrate Gallagher. One of the lads, Nicolo Larkin, aged 20, was sent to the house of correction for six months, and the other, Elward Lee, 15 years, was sent to the house of detention for a hearing. Police officials who have been making an investigation declare that they find that scores of children in Philadelphia are addicted to the use of cocaine.

A Eighty-years' Sentence Probable

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 29.—With one more indictment pending against him in the U. S Court, Wm. Montgomery, convicted looter of the Allegheny National Bank is today facing the possibility of an 80 year sentence. It took a jury less than two hours, late yesterday, to decide that Montgomery was found guilty of misapplying Pittsburg Brewing bonds aggregating $144,000. On Monday afternoon he was found guilty of embezzling $469,000 of the bank's funds. Prosecutor Dunkle expects to go to trial with the third indictment against Montgomery some time next week. This charge alleges false entries. If convicted on this charge Judge Young, by imposing maximum sentences, could send the prisoner to the penitentiary for 80 years.

New York Stock Market.

New York, Oct. 29.—The market opened quiet and somewhat uncertain. Some of the leaders record fractional advances, but after fifteen minutes' trading there was a resumption of the selling movement and prices went to low figures. Outside of the trading in Union Pacific the market was without feature. At the end of the first hour there was a slight recovery all around the room and prices showed fractional improvements.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES

All the collieries of the anthracite region of Pennsylvania were closed to-day, the 180,000 mine workers remaining idle to celebrate "Mitchell Day."

Mrs. Mary Lavins, aged 50, of Chicago, supposed to have become insane, saturated her clothing with oil, ran out to the street and set herself ablaze early today. She will die.

A four-mast schooner went ashore this morning fifty miles south of Cape Henry. Six of the crew were rescued by life savers. Two others were drowned. The vessel is probably a total loss.

Jubilant over report that his meeting in Madison Square Garden last night eclipsed the Bryan demonstration in the same place, Mr. Taft to-day left New York to make his last dash through New York State.

Declaring Portugal threatened with an epidemic of leprosy, Dr. Zepherino Falcao, of the Lisbon Health Department, today began a furious newspaper campaign for goverament action toward stamping out the disease.

Mr. Andrew Carnegie, who reached New York from Europe, said: "In my opinion, the election of Mr. Bryan would be a great tragedy for this nation. It would mean that he would have the appointment of several Supreme Court judges and that for twenty years to come the Supreme Court would be marked by his appointments."

With both his arms cut off below the elbows by members of a "black hand" gang he was believed to have betrayed, Villardo Dippiti appealed to the police in Newark, N. J, today to protect him against further vengeance.

Twelve suffragettes and one man sympathizer with them were today in London given prison sentences of from one week to a month for participating in last evening's outbreak in the House of Commons.

With the suit for divorce instituted by his wife only a week from trial, Oscar H. Gaut, manager of the American Supply Company, in St. Louis, lies dead today, a suicide.

Today's Telegraphic News

To Keep Trust Records Abroad?

New York Oct. 29.—The Journal of Commerce has confirmed the report, which got into circulation several days ago, to the effect that the so-called beef trust is planning to incorporate under foreign laws. This plan is not due so much to the recent conviction of the Western Meat Company, one of the Trust's subsidiaries, in California, as to the fear that others States will bring similar suits.

"The plan under consideration," says the Journal of Commerce, "is to form a parent company with offices in London or some other British city, and to have the various companies, transacting business in the States, entirely independent of one another. These companies would then report direct to the home office abroad, and all correspondence and accounts would be kept there. In most of the suits brought against corporations under the various State anti trust laws, the principal evidence has been obtained by the enforced production of books and letters." The theory is that if these books and papers were in Europe, the accused corporation could not be made to produce them. It has been decided before that federal laws could not be evaded by foreign incorporation, As to State laws, the Journal of Commerce quotes a prominent lawyer as follows:

"Incorporation abroad might help temporarily, but I am afraid that it could be met by the States by the adoption of laws forbidding foreign corporations to transact business within their borders unless they kept a full set of books and accounts inside the State itself.

The Hains Case.

New York, Oct. 29.—T. Jenkins Hains, accused with his brother of the murder of W. E. Annis, has issued a signed statement defending their position and bitterly assailing Mrs. Claud a Libby Hains and her attorney.

He accuses Mrs. Hains' attorney of trying to poison the public mind against the prisoners and dismisses his brother's wife with the bitter allusion:

"There can be little said in regard to a woman who is trying to hang her husband who went mad and killed her lover," said the novelist in his written statement.

Hains defends his own part in the tragedy in strong terms.

Hains goes on to describe his brother breaking down after the alleged confession of Mrs. Hains which the writer says was made in a coldblooded, unconcerned manner to Gen. Hains, Attorney Bennett Captain Haines and himself. He then tells of taking care of his brother during the months that followed.

There is a report that Captain Peter C. Hains may be subject to examination by a commission in lunacy. Captain Hains is said to have broken down completely and to rave at night so loudly as to disturb the others prisoners in the jail.

In accordance with previous reports, District Attorney Darling of Queens county has served notice on counsel for the Hains brothers, charged with the murder of William E. Annis, that he will move next Monday to have the trial of T. Jenkins Hains set for November and that of Peter C. Hains for a later date.

Murderer Executed.

Reading, Pa., Oct. 29.—Salvatore Garitto, murderer of State Policeman Kelleher on September 14, 1907, was hanged here at 10:14 this morning.

Garitto went to his death protesting his innocence of murder in the first degree, and made no attempt at resistance when called to marched to the scaffold. During the week Garitto displayed a dirk which he had fashioned from a piece of iron used in the window screen of his cell, and declared he would kill any one who came to take him to the gallows. This was taken from him yesterday when he was removed to a cell nearer the place of execution. The condemned man, with his spiritual adviser, Rev. Father Veadli and two bailiffs, had to be assisted up the ten steps to the gallows. His neck was broken and death was nearly instantineous. One of the jurors fainted at the scene. The State commissioner and comrades, of Garitto's victim were on duty in the jail, as it had been rumored that members of the "Black Hand," society contemplated a demonstration. Italian Ambassador Des Planches intervened without avail for Garitto.

England's Unemployed.

London, Oct. 29.—Terrified by recent riots of England's unemployed thousands and by threats of still more serious disorders as the weather grows colder, shop keepers in the large English, Welch and Scotch towns are today insuring heavily against losses at the hands of the mobs.

The present premium is from $1.25 to $2.50 on every $500 worth of insurance, according to locality. Insurance men predict that it will jump to $5 or $6 with the first pronounced drop in temperature.

Shops are considered especially bad risks in the vicinity of the parliament house, the meeting places of the county and borough councils, the "unemployed bureaus," and Trafalgar Square, where the big mass meetings of the unemployed are usually held.

The labor unions estimate that 10 per cent of the country's skilled workmen are now idle. The proportion of unskilled laborers without work is much larger. The "army of the workless," now number 2,000,000 and is steadily increasing.

Night Riders to Hang.

Union City, Tenn., Oct. 29.—That at least six night riders will hang for the killing of Captain Rankin at Reelfoot Lake is the belief at Samburg, where Gov. Patterson is in charge of troops who are hunting down the members of the band.

Corroboration of the confession made by "Tid" Barton at Tiptonville is said to have been obtained from Frank Ferriner, another alleged member of the band which killed Rankin, and as a result of his story Garrett and Tom Johnson, and four other prisoners are being held in solitary confinement, while every prisoner made by the scenting parties of troops is being especially interrogated before being herded into the "bull pen."

Indications are that not less than 300 residents of Obion county will be implicated in the crimes of the night riders. Even their blood bound oath of secrecy is known.

In addition to the confessions of Burton and Forriner much evidence of the organization and activities of the night riders has been given by ten men who have been examined by the grand jury.

Vice President Removed.

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 29.—James S. Clark, vice president of District No. 5, United Mine Workers, has been formally removed from office by the district executive board. The removal of Clark is said to be the result of charges preferred by District President Foehan. The nature of the charges is unknown, as the convention is being held with closed doors.

Indianapolis, Oct. 29.—Charging that personal malice is back of an attempt to wreck the organization of the United Mine Workers of America, National President Lewis, in an official address given out today charges that in "some localities the laws of the United Mine Workers are not being obeyed." The address cites a criminal situation in the organization.

Fire in Cincinnati.

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 29.—Twenty persons, mostly women, were hurt, some scalded and others overcome by smoke, in a fire caused by a calcium light explosion on the fourth floor of the Neave building shortly after noon today. A panic followed the alarm of fire and about sixty women employes rushed to the windows and prepared to leap, but were held back by cries from the crowd. One woman on the tenth floor leaped to the roof of a seven-story building adjoining and was seriously injured. "Kid" Purcell, prize-fighter, fell from a ladder at the third floor window assisting the firemen and was fatally injured.

Double Tragedy.

Greenfield, Mass., Oct. 29.—Jealousy is the only cause which the acquaintances of the two victims can assign for the double tragedy that occurred here last night, when Benjamin E Gaines shot his sweetheart, Harriet Mabel Wing, and then killed himself with the same revolver. Gaines was a prosperous mill mechanic, 39 years old. Miss Wing, who was 29, worked in a local department store. The tragedy occurred on the porch of the girl's boarding house, where the couple were found dying two hours later. It is believed that Gaines was insanely jealous, because his sweetheart had told him she was going to a Hallowe'en dance with a younger man.

Brandenburg Bailed.

New York, Oct. 29.—Lined up with the morning's assemblage of pickpockets, burglars and petty offenders, Brandenburg, the magazine writer who recently signed his name to an article attributing certain utterances to the late Grover Cleveland was arraigned before Judge Warren with Foster in the court of general sessions today on an indictment charging grand larceny in the second degree. He entered a plea of not guilty and bail was fixed at $1,500. It was furnished by a Baltimore bonding company acting on the request of friends of Brandenburg in Ohio. Brandenburg went at once to the Hotel Astor. He said he would prepare a statement for publication late this afternoon.

Mr. Bryan Confident.

Troy, N. Y., Oct. 29.—Greatly encouraged in his fight by the public endorsement of David B. Hill, who presided at a big Albany meeting, William J. Bryan left here this morning to continue his up-state tour. During today he will speak at Cohoes, Utica, Rome, Oneida, Canastota and Syracuse. "We are going to win a great victory," Bryan told the Albany crowd. "The democratic party is full of fight and the republican party is full of fright. I expect to carry New York state and I expect to carry the middle west as well as some of the east ern states. We will have enough to win—and more."

Asphyxiated.

Lynn, Mass, Oct. 29.—John W. Hutchinson, the octogenarian poet, famous for his work in abolition days, the friend of Abraham Lincoln was asphyxiated today at his home on High Rock. He was found by his wife lying face downward near the door, toward which he had crawled in an effort to escape. Gas was escaping from a heater. He died within an hour.

Injured by Tidal Wave.

Boston, Oct. 29.—Twenty persons aboard the Cunard liner Isernia were injured, six of them seriously, when the steamer ran into a gigantic tidal wave in the "Devil's Hold," one day out of Queenstown. All those badly hurt were in the steerage. Their injuries range from broken legs to fractured knee caps. All will recover.

KING'S SONS AND DAUGHTERS PROSPER.

At yesterday's session in Petersburg of the State convention of the King's Daughters and Sons the secretary, Mrs. Clarence G. Burton, submitted her annual report. Mrs. Lula C. McPhail, recording secretary, showed that during the last year 2,176 names had been enrolled on the registration cards, an increase of 421. The report of the treasurer, Mrs. Nat A. Melick, showed receipts of $436.24 and disbursements of $387.35. Rev. Mr. Maybee, of the Children's Home Society of Virginia, addressed the convention. The Bible reading was conducted by Mrs. I. T. Mason, of Baltimore.

LETTER TO MAYOR PAFF

Alexandria, Va.

Dear Sir: "It costs as much to put-on poor paint as good"—a common saying and true—it costs much more to put-on poor paint; more gallons

Poor paint is paint and barytes or paint and sand or paint and lime or paint and chalk or paint and benzine or paint and water; these are the usual cheats; there are others.

It takes more gallons of paint-and-a-cheat than of honest paint; and the cost of the labor of painting is so much a gallon—one gallon costs as much as another, for labor.

This is the way to reckon your costs for this year; but how about next year?

Paint Devoe, and next year costs nothing; year after next the same; the same for several years.

Paint anything else, and your costs recur according to what you paint-with. Some of the mixtures wear one year; some two; some three.

It costs twice, three times, four times, five times, as much to paint with a cheat as to paint with Devoe.

Yours truly,
F W DEVOE & CO.

P. S.—E. S. Leadbeater & Sons sell our paint. 8

HILL FOR BRYAN.

The feature of William Jennings Bryan's tour up State yesterday was the appearance on the platform at Albany last night of former U. S. Senator David B. Hill. It was the first time in several years that Mr. Hill had attended such a gathering, so when he stepped forward as chairman to introduce democracy's leader, the great crowd which packed the hall rose as to a man and wildly cheered.

"Although not connected with politics," Mr. Hill said, "I reiterate that I am heartily in favor of the election of the democratic national state ticket. I am not so partisan, however, that I would support the party whether right or wrong, but permit me to say that I support the national ticket in this campaign because, in my judgment, our presidential candidate who honors us with his presence here tonight is absolutely right upon every contested question in this campaign. I am for him because I sincerely believe that the best interests of the country will be subserved by his election. It is time for a change in the administration of the government, a change of measures and of men. Our candidate owes the nomination not to any one man or any set of men, but only to the people themselves If elected he will be the president himself, and not a dummy for any man. He will not be led around with a string like a great big caged bear."

Ex-Senator Hill, referring to the republican charge that a panic would follow Mr. Bryan's election, declared that it would not be a business panic, "but it will be a panic on the part of the hundreds of thousands of federal office-holders and public officials who will have to surrender their places to the victorious party." He concluded his encomium of Mr Bryan by saying that "our candidate is your friend. He is my friend. He is the friend of the people. He has been the courageous, sincer and constant friend of labor ever since he has been in public life. He is as incorruptible as he is brave, and he can neither be purchased nor intimidated."

Mr. Bryan received an ovation as he arose to speak. He was cheered to the echo and the large audience reluctantly obeyed his gesture to then to become quite He expressed his appreciation of the cordial welcome he had received "in the capital of our nation's greatest State," and replied to Mr. Hill by saying:

"I appreciate the more than generous words employed by Senator Hill in presenting me to you. One of the pleasures of this campaign is the unity that manifests itself in the democratic party. As the candidate for president I have behind me a united democracy and in front of me a scared republican party."

HALLOWE'EN.

Next Saturday night is the time set by history and custom for the festival of Hallowe'en and is more or less observed in Virginia by the young people everywhere. Pumpkin lanterns, carved in grotesque shapes are valuable adjuncts to the parties which are frequently given that night and various humorous customs prevail, all more or less connected with the supposed fortunes of the young people who observe them. Much good-natured fun attends these gatherings and already several are in contemplation in this city.

These include "ghost parties," "peep-into-the-future entertainments," children parties, games with uncanny prizes, such as miniature black cats, papier-mache snakes and frogs, toy lizards and bats and what not. There will be the bobbing for apples in bowls of water and a hundred other varieties of diversions.

Hallowe'en is the eve of All Saints' day. It takes its origin from the fact that it is the anniversary of the last day on which the Roman gods were allowed by law to be worshipped in Rome. The day also marks the beginning of the Christian religion as the state religion of Rome.

In Scotland, England and some parts of America it is regarded as the time when supernatural influences prevail, and as the night when grim ghosts of the departed walk the earth.

Burns, the poet of the Scots, is one of the authorities of Hallowe'en practices, and it is to him that the rest of the world is indebted for accounts of many of the frolics of the Celtic peasants on the night in question. His poem, "Hallowe'en," describes aptly the customs of the time in which he wrote and which still prevail around the shores of "Loch Lomond, along the banks of the "Bonnie Doon," and on Cassilas Dowons. The latter are a group of green hills near the ancient seat of the Earls of Cassilas, one of the most powerful families of the Highlands in the days when it was dangerous for a man wearing the Cameron plaid to go near the domains of the wearers of McPherson green, black and red check, or vice versa.

One of the first ceremonies of this night of feasting was pulling a stock of kale. A lad and a lassie went out, hand in hand, with eyes shut, to the kale bed, and pulled the first stock they came upon. Its being big or little, straight or crooked, was prophetic of the size and shape of the grand object of all their "spells," the future husband or wife. If any "yird" of earth stick to the root, that was fortune, and the taste of the "heart of the stem," the cusock, was indicative of the temper and dispositition of the future life's partner.

JUVENILE GAMBLING.

The crusade against all kinds of gambling devices in the District of Columbia begun by the police of the First precinct as the result of complaints from the parents of children and others, reached the police court yesterday, when six storekeepers, arrested for having gambling, machines in their places of business were fined $5 each. The place of each defendant is near a public school, and it is said that the pupils have been flocking to them with their pennies for chewing gum and other articles in the stores to the value of their winnings. Various odds are given for a penny, ranging from two pieces of gum to 25 cents worth The number of such gambling devices in Alexandria is increasing all the time. They are patronized solely by school children, who are taught to gamble early in life.

FINED FIVE DOLLARS.

Wilson Reed, colored, manager of a billiard and pool room in the northeastern section of the city, was arrested last night by Officers Sampson, Sherwood and Arrington, for an assault on James Lee, colored, with a billiard cue. Dr. Warfield took six stitches in Lee's forehead at police headquarters. Reed was arraigned in the police court this morning when it was shown that Lee brought on the trouble by drunken and disorderly conduct. Reed was fined $5.

KENSINGTON BALL

There will be a joint meeting of five democratic clubs at Kensington, Md., this evening. State Senator Blair Lee will preside and among the speakers who have been invited to address the meeting are Attorney General Strauss, of Maryland, and Mr. Lewis H. Machen, of this city.

WEDDING.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Peverill last night was the scene of a very pretty wedding when Miss Delia M. Peverill became the bride of Mr. Lorenzo Butts. Miss Fannie Peverill, sister of the bride, acted as maid of honor. Miss Florence Peverill, sister of the bride, and Miss Ruth Butts, sister of the groom, were brides maids. Mr. T. F. Butts, brother of the groom, was best man, and the bride was given away by her brother, Mr. William Peverill. The bridal party entered the parlor to the strains of Mendelssohn's march played by Mrs. James Hullfish. The bride was becomingly attired in white silk and carried a shower bouquet of bride roses. Miss Fannie Peverill wore a gown of cream silk and carried pink roses. Miss Ruth Butts wore a gown of blue silk and carried white chrysanthemums tied with blue ribbon, while Miss Florence Peverill wore a gown of pink voile and carried white chrysanthemums tied with pink ribbon. The bridal party stood under an arch made of autumn leaves and the altar was decorated with palms, ferns and flowers. Rev. John Cavnaugh performed the ceremony after which a reception took place. Many relatives and friends gathered to witness the marriage. Mr. and Mrs. Butts left on the 10:10 train for a tour through the north, after which they will reside in Washington.

A REMINISCENCE.

When the train carrying William J. Bryan through New York state reached Tarrytown yesterday morning a large crowd had assembled to greet the Nebraskan. As the dense mass of humanity surged about the rear of the train to see Mr. Bryan the signal was given to back the train. Half a dozen people were knocked down and had it not been for the presence of mind of a man on the platform, who pulled the cord which put on the emergency brakes, several persons would have been killed. This brings to mind a scene on Fayette street, between King and Cameron, in Alexandria, in the fall of 1896, when a north bound train bearing Mr. Bryan stopped here. The square was blocked with people, especially the track in the rear of the train, when the cars suddenly and witout warning started to back. There was a stampede, and fortunately, all those on the track managed to get out of the way.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH NOTES

Tonight and Friday night at 8 o'clock at the Second Presbyterian Church Rev. Andrew Reid Bird, of Laurel, Md., will preach. These services are preparatory to the communion which will be celebrated next Sunday. Mr. Bird is a young minister of great earnestness and most forceful in the delivery of his message. The public is cordially invited to attend these services.

Under direction of the Laymen's Missionary Movement, of which Mr. F. L. Saymaker is chairman, in Chesapeake Presbytery, Rev. H. C. Ostrone, general secretary, is visiting all the Presbyterian churches of this section. He is enlisting them in the forward movement for larger and more regular contributions to missions. Mr. Ostrom has already visited the Second Presbyterian Church of this city and the churches of Greenwich, Delaplane and Warrenton.

CITY ALMSHOUSE

In accordance with a recommendation made to the city council by Mayor Paff, several weeks ago, the joint committee of council on poor and public property and City Engineer Dunn yesterday made an inspect on of the city almshouse. A report will be made to the council at its next meeting. The committee on public property will recommend certain repairs and alterations in the building. The committee on poor will call attention to other matters in connection with the institution.

INQUEST.

A coroner's jury, with Frank Dennis as foreman, yesterday afternoon returned a verdict that Arthur Berry, a negro, came to his death by being struck by an electric car on the Mount Vernon Railroad tracks on October 24. The jury was summoned by Coroner Ashton, and met at the office of Justice Lewis Dalbert at Johnson's Hill, Alexandria county. About twenty-five persons were examined. There were no witnesses to the accident and the jury was unable to fix the responsibility.

SUSPECTED OF LUNACY

George Geary, colored, who says his home is in Alexandria, was committed to the workhouse in Washington yesterday for an examination into his sanity. Geary told Judge Kimball when arraigned for vagrancy that he went to Washington to escape, murderous attacks by persons formerly his friends. He said that he had denied himself food and clothing in order to save money to get away from home and to safety.

We want you to look for our big ad. that appears on this page every Friday and read it over carefully. Of course the "don't care" sort of people wont bother about it. Folks that are always dissatisfied never care a rap about what they eat and there's generally a reason. They've gorged themselves with most anything they could get and their brain becomes so clogged up they can't think. Please don t get into this kind of a rut. Come to the Auth Stand. Eat the Auth Products and wear that happy smile. Sylvan Blondheim, the Auth Stand, City Market.

PUBLIC SALE!

The following gotten up by the democrats of Oklahoma is being sent through the country:

Our lease with Uncle Sam having practically expired and having decided to quit the business and retire to private life, we, the undersigned, will offer at Public Sale, at our residence at the Capital in Washington, D. C., commencing on the 4th day of next November, 1908, the following described property, to-wit:

One elephant about 45 years old; one financial panic, old enough to wean, aired by gold bugs and damned by everybody; one republican platform as good as new, but somewhat mossworn; one big stick, slightly impaired by overwork; one republican machine, the same being somewhat out of repair; one financial system, well supplied with clearing house certificates and a little cash; 5,000,000 Teddy Bears; old empty dinner pails and other articles too numerous to mention.

Everybody, regardless of past party affiliations or previous political servitude, is invited to attend this sale. It is expected that most of the articles herein mentioned will be bid on by the Stand Patters, but everything will be on the square and all articles will be sold. There will be no by-bidders. Possession of the property will be given on March 4, 1909.

Roast Crow will be served on the grounds by the Young Men's Republican Club. This sale will positively take place on the date mentioned regardless of the weather.

HAD MARRIED ANOTHER MAN

George Hunter, a U. S. marine, returned to Richmond Monday after an absence of five years, ostensibly for the purpose of marrying Miss Louise Mallory. The boy and girl were sweethearts before he left to join the navy. After his arrival in San Francisco recently Hunter wrote Miss Mallory telling her of his return. He wrote again in Chicago and still again in Philadelphia. The girl received the letters, but the first Hunter knew of this was when he stepped off the train in Richmond. He was informed in a note from the young lady that she had married in August Mr. John Snead, whom she had met since their parting.

The husband of the girl forbade Hunter seeing her, but in his absence the former lover stole into the house and had an interview. His words to her were to the effect that during his life in the navy he had been a Christian gentleman for her sake, and that even in his keen disappointment he would not shun the straight and narrow path.

MARK TWAIN'S HUMOR.

Mark Twain's Missouri friends and admirers are up in arms over the declaration of Prof. Wm. Norman Guthrie, of the University of the South, made on Monday night before the St. Louis Society of Pedagogy, that much of Twain's humor is "rot." Professor Guthrie nearly took the breath out of his hearers when he exclaimed:

"Mark Twain unquestionably is a genius and has written some things that make one laugh, but a lot of his stuff is rot. Just compare him with Alphonso Daudet, the French novelist. Twain is a genius, but we want some one who will retain the natural refinement of our language. The French public compelled Daudet to do this, as the comparison between these two writers will show."

MR. BRYAN'S LETTER.

Mr. Bryan has written the following letter to the people of the country:

LINCOLN, NEB., Oct. 28, 1908.

Fellow Citizens:

The campaign is drawing to a close, the issues have been set forth in the platforms, the arguments of the candidates have been presented and the verdict is about to be rendered. Every State in the union shows democratic gains and there is no doubt of a democratic victory if all who favor our policies vote and have their votes counted. I write to urge you to see to it that every democratic vote in your precinct is polled early and counted. We desire a popular majority as well as a majority in the electoral college, and your vote is needed to offset a republican vote somewhere else, even if not in your own locality. Work! Vote! And then you can rejoice the more heartily in the victory.

Yours truly,
W. J. BRYAN.
